

CDAS – Chairman’s Monthly Letter – March 2020

Fieldwork

We still plan to do the geophysical survey at Fishbourne once the weather improves and the field starts to dry out.

Coastal Monitoring

Following the visit to Medmerry West in January we made a visit to Medmerry East. Recent storms had made a big change to the landscape. As on our last visit to the west side it was possible to walk across the breach at low tide.

Some more of the Coastguard station has been exposed. However one corner has now disappeared. It was good that Hugh was able to create the 3D Model when he did.

We found what looks like a large fish trap with two sets of posts running in a V shape, each arm being about 25 metres long. The woven hurdles were clearly visible. Peter Murphy took a sample of the timber in case there is an opportunity for radiocarbon dating.

We plan to return to the site in March to draw and record the structure. When we have decided on a date for this work I will let Members know.

Condition Assessment – Thorney Island

The annual Condition Assessment of the WW2 sites on Thorney Island will be on Tuesday 10th March, meeting at 09:30 at the junction of Thorney Road and Thornham Lane (SU757049).

If you would like to join us and want to bring a car onto the base you need to tell us in advance, so please email the make, model, colour and registration number of your car to annedp@waitrose.com by Friday 6 March. Bring photo ID on the day.

You cannot decide to bring a car at the last minute, but you can come as a passenger. If you send in details and then decide not to come that's no problem.

Priory Park

We have approval from CDC for this year's excavation in Priory Park from 18th May to 2nd June. The Novium Museum's Roman Week coincides with the second full week of the dig.

This year the trench will be opened by B&M who have worked with us at Warblington in recent years. With their experience and use of a heavy digger we should be able to get down to the archaeology more quickly and with less physical effort than in previous years.

We will make further announcements on the programme as and when details become available.

Talks

You may want to put the following dates in your diary

25th March	Professor Josh Pollard	Living with Monuments: recent work on the Neolithic of the Avebury region

27 th May	Members Evening – Subjects and speakers will be confirmed in April's Newsletter

Non-members are welcome to attend our talks for a fee of £5. I would encourage Members to bring along their friends

Outline: The study of human remains can be one of the most exciting and rewarding elements of archaeology, providing direct evidence of the condition (and indeed conditions) of our ancestors. Skeletal remains can harbour a variety of information ranging from gender and stature, to lifestyle and disease. In the exact opposite method to a modern doctor, the archaeologist may be able to see what was wrong with an individual and then work out the symptoms. Perhaps a less recognised element of the study of death is the archaeological analysis of monuments associated with commemoration and remembrance. From Neolithic tombs to Commonwealth war grave cemeteries, attitudes to the deceased can be literally set in stone. Country churchyards, too, can reveal a surprising array of memorials and approaches to celebrating the deceased.

Member-led walks: Around Petworth in summer, led by Henry Wakeford

Dates: Wednesday 12 August 2020 and Sunday 16 August 2020. The same walk will take place on 2 different days. Henry has kindly offered to do the walk twice to give more people the opportunity to participate

Outline: The walk will be leaving the confines of Petworth to visit a couple of nearby hamlets to look at some of their historical details.

PLEASE NOTE: You will need to be reasonably fit to take part in this activity. The walk is about six miles long and involves some steep hill walking. It will take between two and three hours. Wear stout footwear, preferably walking boots.

Practical Study Day: Make your own Iron Age Pot, led by Bill Crumbleholme

Study Day: Chichester's Maritime Past, led by writer and historian Ian Friel.

Date: Saturday 28 November 2020

Time: 10:00 – 16:00

Location: Fishbourne Roman Palace (Rudkin Room), Roman Way, Fishbourne, Chichester PO19 3QR. There is plenty of parking.

Cost: Members £25, non-members £30. Payment is due by 30 October 2020. Details of how to pay will be sent when your place is confirmed.

Outline: Covering the area from Pagham Harbour to Chichester Harbour, and the period from prehistory onwards, this study day will explore Chichester's maritime history through both archaeological and historical sources, drawing on Ian's own research. The maritime history of this area is much richer than sometimes realised. It includes, for instance, an Elizabethan sailor from Chichester who vanished in the Indian Ocean, the Harbour's role as a grain-exporting haven in the 18th century, its surprising history in constructing Georgian warships, the local oyster fishery, and the development of yachting and leisure boating in the 20th century.
